

316NOW's Sheep to Lambs initiative

GOAL

316NOW is developing a ministry that will train Christian adults in China to teach children about Jesus. It is called Sheep to Lambs.

BARRIERS

China's government is restricting churches from telling anyone under the age of 18 about God's grace in Jesus. Children are not permitted in worship services. Sunday schools, church camps, and youth-oriented, Christian programs are illegal.

FUTURE

- Test two of our lessons in China (May).
- Evaluate the results and adjust the rest of our lessons.
- Complete 30 student and teacher lessons (Sept).
- Develop an online distribution channel for the materials (Sept.).
- Recruit Chinese teachers (Sept.).
- Launch fall semester of lessons (Oct.).
- Host monthly online teacher meetings (Nov.).

2020

- Increase the number of lessons and teaching levels.
- Increase the number of Chinese adults teaching children about Jesus.
- Increase enrollment in our Grace Bible Institute.

316NOW gratefully acknowledges the support of the Antioch Foundation for enabling us to launch this program.

Sheep to Lambs is a component of 316NOW's strategy to help to establish a Confessional Lutheran presence in China by training church leaders in sound, Biblical theology and practice.

PLAN

Our Sheep to Lambs initiative is led by a team of seasoned, Lutheran educators. The team is developing materials to

- train Chinese Christians to instruct children about Bible truths.
- help Chinese Christians gather small groups of children (2-5 children) in their homes.
- provide culturally appropriate Bible study materials to children ages 4-10.

In addition, the team is working with internet professionals to design a method for sharing our materials with Christians in China.
